Progress of Man Joseph Fielding Smith

When the disciples inquired of the Lord concerning the signs of his second coming, he gave them a comparison between the fig tree putting forth its leaves and the signs of distress among the nations. There were to be wars and rumors of wars; distress and perplexity among the nations; signs in the earth and in the heavens. These would be of such nature that all should be able to understand them. Today we are witnesses of all these things. The Lord gave this generation a solemn warning when he said: "And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your heart be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares."

We are living in perilous times. There is a rapidly growing disrespect and disregard for law and order in the world. Many are contending for great changes in governments. Greed has entered the hearts of most men. Tyranny has raised its head and oppression has descended like a cloud over much of the earth. Governments are being overthrown and there are great changes with blood and carnage in the offing.

Because of these grave conditions the members of the Board of the Genealogical Society of Utah thought it would be timely to have a course of study giving a brief outline of man's history on the earth, including some thoughts relative to his government, divine and human, and showing that God rules among the nations, and that in time Jesus Christ will come to rule upon the earth, which rule will endure forever.

Acknowledgment is here given to Elder Archibald F. Bennett, our faithful secretary, and to Assistant Historian August William Lund, for their untiring efforts and assistance in the preparation of this work.

Salt Lake City, Utah Joseph Fielding Smith.

October 24, 1936.
